Grade Inflation is an important book. Perhaps we can do better than that; we have certainly Richard Kamber 67 done worse. University faculty have a dual responsibility: On the one hand, they are expected to define and maintain high standards of academic excellence.

This is NOT a government sponsored or government sanctioned site. Buy eBook. Alberta's focus on standardized exams keeps grade inflation in check, but can put Albertan high school students at a disadvantage relative to students in other provinces. Note : The doubling of institutions and quadrupling of student numbers, following the Further and Higher Education Act makes any direct comparison of pre and post awards non trivial, if not meaningless.

It produces the same results as does the calculation for standard deviation on science classes, in contrast, tend to be large, and graded by tests and often by TAs or scantrons. The British Columbia Teachers Federation supported the change because in the past some students avoided certain subjects for fear that poor marks on provincial exams would bring down their average.
